FOLEY, Auctioneer. CICK HEADACHE. ITS CAUSE AND CURE.

Sick Headache is one of those terrible chronic disease that has been overlooked by the medical faculty, because few people ever die directly from it, but may suffer the agonies of death tenfold. Sick Headache is not dependent on a dyspept ic stomach, as is generally supposed to be the case, but upon an irritable state of the nervous system. The headache begins hours before the stomach becomes sick, and the cause of the stomach getting sick at all is from nervous sympathy transmitted from the brain to the stomach. The real and first cause of these headaches lies still further back, and is to be found in a poor and impovershed condition of the nerve fluid, and while in this condition there are many local or exciting causes for these headaches, such as fatigue, overwork, bright light, hot sun, going without the usual meal, stimulants, and various other things may bring on an attack, but all because the nervous system is run down. Now for the farmer used to go courting only in this trance cure. It is DR. BENSON'S CELERY AND CHAMO-

STATE FOLLOWING INEBRIETY.

Dr. T. D. Crothers, superintendent of the Hartford Inebriate Asylum, argued to the Medico-Legal society last night that there is a trance state following inebriety, in which the patient is legally and practically irresponsible for his - acts.

His conduct in that condition is purely au-omatic, and he has no knowledge of what he is oing or recollection of it atterward. Dr. Crothers gave details drawn from his study of 62 cases

Strange Things Done in Trances. R. CROTHERS' DESCRIPTION OF AN IRRESPONSIBLE

that had come under his care. In some of these cases a customary routine would be followed auomatically. In other cases strange, inconsistent, and purposeless acts would be done. Some of the cases cited were very curious. An atheist physitan would turn up at religious meetings, pray and exhort fervently, fill the church people with joy over his conversion, and, on recovery from the trance, had no recollection of his behavior, and was angry and mortified on hearing it. A bashful Wife beating, bigamy, forgery, horse stealing, and homicide have been committed in this trance state, and the offender was unconscious of the act, and according to Dr. Crothers not responsible for it. Converts of Moody or Murphy have often been trance victims, ignorant of what they were doing. A United States Senator took the pledge at a gospel temperance meeting, and has ever since denied any knowledge of having done so. The defence often heard from inebriates, that they were ignorant of crimes charged upon them, should Dr. Crothers think, receive consideration, and should be subjected to competent medical investigation.-N. Y. Sun, 2d. How a Farmer Treated a Bound Boy. William Loundsberry, a wealthy farmer living near Pultney, N. Y., has been sentenced to pay ECZEMA, TETTERS, HUMORS, INFLAMMATION, $1,000 damages for shocking cruelty to Daniel Crocker, who, when only nine years old, was taken from the almshouse. Loundsberry agreed to feed, clothe and educate the boy, and care for him until he was twenty-one. The testimony of the boy showed that he was subjected to most inhuman treatment from the farmer, who utterly failed to provide for his wants. He says: "My clothing was of the scantiest, my food poor, and I was inhumanly THE WORLD. Elegantly put up, two bottles in one beaten. All through the cold winters for several years I went without stockings and without an overcoat. Sometimes when the family went away they locked me out of the house, and I was obliged to sleep in the woodshed. When I was about eleven years old they tied me up by the thumbs in the cellar, took the clothes from me, and whipped me till the blood ran down my back and into my boots. And this was because of a slight offence Another time Lounsberry tied my hands behind me, put a rope around my neck, and then hung me up to a beam in the barn. He let me hang there until a neighbor came and let the rope go. I fell insensible to the floor, remaining there until consclousness returned. He knocked me down with a handspike once and kicked me brutally." At fourteen Crocker ran away, but was followed and brought back, and at nineteen he again ran away

ing been allowed to attend school except now and then in the winter. A GREAT ENGINEERING FEAT .- The St. Gothard tunnel, which, as announced in cable dispatches, is now open for the passage of trains, is one of the greatest engineering teats of the century. It cost $57,800,000, of which Italy paid as a subsidy $11,000,000, Germany $6,000,000, and Switzerland $5,600,000. The work was begun in 1872, in the fall, nd the tunnel was completed in February, 1880 four and a-half years less than was required to build the Mont Cenis tunnel. During the progress of the enterprise the laborers in the tunnel suffered from a mysterious disease that long baffled all physicians; but an Italian physician, Dr. Giaccone, finally traced it, with the aid of microscopic investigation, to parasitic worms that were engendered by the underground atmosphere, and lodged in the intes-tines of men working in it. A Swiss physician, Dr. Sonderegge, supplemented this discovery by devis-ing a method of expelling the parasites. The tun-nel is one section of a railroad running from Lake Luzerne in Switzerland to Lake Maggiore in Italy. The tunnel proper begins at Goeschenen, in a defile where the river Reuss dashes beneath the famous Devil's Bridge, and ends at Airolo, where it over-looks the pleasant pastoral valley of the Ticino. Its length is nine-and-a-third miles, or 48,936 feet, to be exact; it is 19% feet high and 26 feet in maximum width.

A GRAVEYARD INSURANCE MURDER .- The authorities of Ephrata township, Lancaster county, Pa., are investigating the supposed murder of an old man whose life had been insured for $50,000 by different parties. It appears that the tragedy oc-curred five or six weeks ago, but has just been revealed by a boy named John Gallagher, who saw the affair and was offered two dollars to keep quiet. The parties interested in the policy made the man drunk, and enticed him to a hay-loft, where they had arranged a trap. Here they allowed him to sleep for a while, when they suddenly called him. Awaking half dazed, he staggered upon the trap, fell through, and died from his injuries within twenty-four hours.

A NOVEL REAL ESTATE SCHEME.-A company of Philadelphia capitalists have made a novel investment at Wayne, thirteen miles from the city. They purchased 600 acres for $250,000 and spent $100,000 in landscape gardening, $50,000 for water supply and enough in draining to swell the total investment to $500,000. The building lots are an acre each, and the purchaser is bound to select one out of twenty striking designs for a residence, costing $2,000 to $8,000. Picturesqueness is further provided for by fixing the exact spot on which the house shall stand, and locating the trees to suit the landscape. The lots have nearly all been A MASSACHUSETTS school teacher was recently fined $25 and costs, by a district judge, for inhumanly beating a young boy, one of her pupils. The judge took occasion to pronounce the assault one of the most outrageous cases of cruelty to a child which had ever come under his observation. The teacher appealed, and was held in $300 for trial at the next term of the superior court.

DAMAGING TESTIMONY IN RICHMOND AGAINST THE NINTH MASSACHUSETTS REGIMENT.-The military commission sent to Richmond from Massachusetts to inquire into the alleged misconduct of of the 9th Massachusetts regiment while on their Yorktown centennial trip commenced its investigation yesterday. Mayor Carrington, desiring to facilitate the work of the commission, had summoned a large number of witnesses, who gave moned a large number of witnesses, who gave their testimony, which was taken down, each witness signing his or her own statement. There will be no publication of the evidence until the commission make their report at home. The witnesses made their depositions under oath, and some of them are exceedingly damaging to the good name of the regiment whose conduct is now undergoing investigation, it being testified to that ladies were insuited by members of the regiment.

FOUR MEN'DROWNED AND THEIR BODIES ROBBED .-A sailboat capsized off Adams' Point, Presque Isle, Lake Huron, Mich., September 20. Four persons were drowned. It is now alleged that a party of hunters found the bodies of these unfortunates in the woods near the shore, entirely stripped. One man is said to have had $800 on his person when he started on the voyage.

THE RECEIVER OF NEWARK'S BROKEN BANK .-Frederick Frelinghuysen qualified as receiver of the Mechanics' Bank at Newark, N. J., yesterday, his father, ex-Senator Frelinghuysen, being his bondsman for $30,000. An injunction was served on President Halsey yesterday from the Corn Ex-change Bank, New York, restraining him from collecting securities forwarded to the bank for collection.

ADELINI PATTI reached New York yesterda morning in the steamer Algeria, accompanied her tenor, Nicolini. A reception party on board the steamer Blackford met the steamship at quarantine, and escorted the prima donna to this city. She has been twenty-two years absent from the United States, where she spent her youth, and achieved her first triumphs in the concert hall and on the operatic stage. Her first concert takes place in New York next week. Ten dollars is the price for the best seats, five and four dollars for other seats, and two dollars for simple
